

Manifest File

Provenance: The source file used for my final project came from Project Gutenberg (a website that contains thousands of different text files from books, poems, etc.). It is a collection of three separate series of Emily Dickinson poetry rolled up into one text file (therefore the LIBRARY.csv has three series captured instead of just one line in order to capture this even though they came in one file). The reason that there is only one source file is because there were over 400 poems in this source file that were used in the analysis.

Link: <https://www.gutenberg.org/files/12242/12242-h/12242-h.htm>

Location: <https://virginia.box.com/s/gf6yfhpilsh5t2q18q8juzxqt9z2pftb>

Description: The general subject matter of the corpus is poetry by Emily Dickinson that focuses on the themes of Life, Love, Nature, and Time & Eternity.

Format: The format of the source file is as a text file (i.e. plain text). There is no specific internal structure for this file format.